Your reaction matters more than what happens to you	Sua reação é mais importante do que o que acontece com você
Once upon a time a daughter complained to her father that her life was miserable and that she didn't know how she was going to make it.	Certa vez, uma filha reclamou com o pai que sua vida era miserável e que ela não sabia como iria sobreviver.
She was tired of fighting and struggling all the time.	Ela estava cansada de lutar e lutar o tempo todo.
It seemed just as one problem was solved, another one soon followed.	Parecia que, assim que um problema era resolvido, outro logo se apresentava.
Her father, a chef, took her to the kitchen.	Seu pai, um chef, a levou para a cozinha.
He filled three pots with water and placed each on a high fire.	Ele encheu três panelas com água e colocou cada uma delas no fogo alto.
Once the three pots began to boil, he placed potatoes in one pot, eggs in the second pot, and ground coffee beans in the third pot.	Assim que as três panelas começaram a ferver, ele colocou as batatas em uma panela, os ovos na segunda e grãos de café na terceira.
He then let them sit and boil, without saying a word to his daughter.	Ele então os deixou assentar e ferver, sem dizer uma palavra à sua filha.
The daughter, moaned and impatiently waited, wondering what he was doing.	A filha gemia e esperava impacientemente, perguntando-se o que ele estava fazendo.
After twenty minutes he turned off the burners.	Depois de vinte minutos, ele desligou os queimadores.
He took the potatoes out of the pot and placed them in a bowl.	Ele tirou as batatas da panela e as colocou em uma tigela.
He pulled the boiled eggs out and placed them in a bowl.	Ele puxou os ovos cozidos e os colocou em uma tigela.
He then ladled the coffee out and placed it in a cup.	Ele então tirou o café com uma concha e o colocou em uma xícara.
Turning to her he asked. "Daughter, what do you see?"	Virando-se para ela, perguntou. "Filha, o que você vê?"
"Potatoes, eggs, and coffee," she hastily replied.	"Batatas, ovos e café", ela respondeu apressadamente.
"Look closer," he said, "and touch the potatoes."	"Olhe mais de perto", disse ele, "e toque nas batatas."
She did and noted that they were soft.	Ela obedeceu e observou que elas eram suaves.
He then asked her to take an egg and break it.	Ele então pediu a ela para pegar um ovo e quebrá-lo.
After pulling off the shell, she observed the hard-boiled egg.	Depois de retirar a casca, ela observou o ovo cozido.
Finally, he asked her to sip the coffee.	Finalmente, ele pediu a ela que tomasse um gole de café.
Its rich aroma brought a smile to her face.	Seu rico aroma trouxe um sorriso a seu rosto.
"Father, what does this mean?" she asked.	"Pai, o que isso significa?" ela perguntou.

He then explained that the potatoes, the eggs and coffee beans had each faced the same adversity: the boiling water.	Ele então explicou que as batatas, os ovos e os grãos de café enfrentaram a mesma adversidade: a água fervente.
However, each one reacted differently.	No entanto, cada um reagiu de forma diferente.
The potato went in strong, hard, and unrelenting, but in boiling water, it became soft and weak.	A batata entrou forte, dura e implacável, mas na água fervente, tornou-se macia e fraca.
The egg was fragile, with the thin outer shell protecting its liquid interior until it was put in the boiling water.	O ovo era frágil, com a fina casca externa protegendo seu interior líquido até que fosse colocado na água fervente.
Then the inside of the egg became hard.	Então o interior do ovo endureceu.
However, the ground coffee beans were unique.	No entanto, os grãos de café moídos eram únicos.
After they were exposed to the boiling water, they changed the water and created something new.	Depois de serem expostos à água fervente, eles mudaram a água e criaram algo novo.
"Which are you?", he asked his daughter.	"Quem é você?", ele perguntou à filha.
"When adversity knocks on your door, how do you respond? Are you a potato, an egg, or a coffee bean?"	"Quando a adversidade bate à sua porta, como você reage? Você é uma batata, um ovo ou um grão de café?"
